Rufus

(fl. c. 457)

BRIEFING

Flavius Rufus (floruit 457 AD) was a politician of the Eastern Roman Empire. In 457 he was appointed consul with Constantinus as colleague; both of them were recognised only in the East.

Nothing else is known about him.